

CHEMICAL INDUSTRY
Awards
2010

Thursday 24 June 2010
St George's Hall, Liverpool

The Chemical Industry Awards are the premier accolades for the UK chemical industry. They are designed to offer a unique opportunity to promote and highlight excellent performance and best practice at company, site or individual level.

The evening provides the perfect opportunity to entertain valued clients, colleagues and guests in the celebration of the best of the UK chemical and pharmaceutical industry.

Chemical Industry Awards

Don't miss your opportunity to tell everyone about your business success story. If you want to gain positive press coverage and help attract new business, as well as demonstrate to your current customers, employees and competitors that yours is an exceptional business, then being a winner of a Chemical Industry Award will help you achieve this.

The 2010 categories are:

- ABB Manufacturing and Resource Efficiency Award
- Company of the Year sponsored by Haden Freeman
- EDF Energy Low Carbon Award
- Excellence in Engineering Award sponsored by BIS Industrial Services
- Innovation Award sponsored by GlaxoSmithKline
- Dow Reputation Award
- INEOS Responsible Care Award
- Special Responsible Care Award for Process Safety Leadership sponsored by Shell UK
- The Skills Alliance for the Process Industries Award
- Environmental Leadership Award sponsored by Johnson Matthey
- REACH Service Provider Award sponsored by REACHReady
- BASF Young Ambassador Award

All entries will be judged by a panel of experts, with short-listed candidates being subjected to a more extensive judging process, in some cases involving a site visit, interview or presentation. Entries in each category will be diligently assessed according to contribution and adherence to the CIA Guiding Principles for Sustainable Development.

The closing date for entries is 26 March 2010

Full details of the categories and judging criteria are available from

Award Criteria

Entry is open to the whole of the UK chemical and pharmaceutical industry and to companies that provide services to the industry as appropriate for each particular Award. Entries should be submitted electronically on the appropriate entry form (available from www.ciaawards.co.uk) and sent to Mike Lancaster at LancasterM@cia.org.uk by 26 March 2010.

ABB Manufacturing and Resource Efficiency Award

The Award is to recognise the company that demonstrates world-class manufacturing performance or the most successful improvement to its manufacturing performance involving demonstrable excellence and/or significant improvements to resource efficiency.

Company of the Year sponsored by Haden Freeman

The winner of this Award will be, in the view of the judges, the most outstanding CIA member company of the year – demonstrating growth of its business and a sustained contribution to the UK economy.

EDF Energy Low Carbon Award

This Award will be given to the company which can best demonstrate enhanced carbon management through initiatives such as improved resource efficiency, the use of alternative energy sources and solutions designed to achieve energy saving across their supply chain.

Excellence in Engineering Award sponsored by BIS Industrial Services

The Award is to recognise the contribution of engineering excellence in the chemical industry towards improved business performance. The Award will recognise innovation and outstanding delivery of engineering within chemical operator organisations or from suppliers who provide outsourced engineering services to the industry.

Innovation Award sponsored by GlaxoSmithKline

This Award will acknowledge the successful use and application of innovation within a business or across a supply chain to achieve tangible business results with clear societal impact. The innovation activity can be in any area of a business related to the chemical and pharmaceutical industry; this can include, for example: innovative products, services, processes, facility design, workforce development, technology or operations.

Dow Reputation Award

This Award is in recognition of the company which has shown best practice in communicating to and involving a range of stakeholders, enhancing its reputation and that of industry at large.

INEOS Responsible Care Award

This Award is for the company or site which has excelled at Responsible Care by demonstrating leadership and a creative approach.

Special Responsible Care Award for Process Safety Leadership sponsored by Shell UK

This Award is designed to sustain the high profile of process safety; reinforce process safety as an integral element within Responsible Care; promote CIA's 2008 Process safety leadership in the chemical industry Best Practice Guide, and encourage leadership and the sharing of best practice.

The Skills Alliance for the Process Industries Award

The purpose of this Award is to recognise the employer who has done the most to contribute to the acquisition of skills by the company's workforce.

Environmental Leadership Award sponsored by Johnson Matthey

This Award is for the company that can demonstrate excellence in environmental leadership through the development or use of innovative clean technology or products that help reduce the environmental footprint of chemical manufacturing.

REACH Service Provider Award sponsored by REACHReady

The purpose of this Award is to recognise the company providing key support to companies registering products for REACH. Its services could include, for example: performing physico-chemical tests, testing environmental effects and fate, preparing chemical safety reports, validating registration documents, providing legal services, providing project management services, etc.

BASF Young Ambassador Award

This Award is to recognise an outstanding young person demonstrating communication skills and leadership associated with the UK chemical and pharmaceutical industry and contributing to its success.

Quotes from the 2009 Award winners...

"GSK was extremely proud to win both the Company of the Year and Responsible Care Awards as well as one of our employees being crowned as Young Ambassador for 2009. This unique recognition from our industry peers reflects positively on all the hard work of our employees at all levels in the organisation to give their best in achieving GSK's mission of improving the quality of human life by enabling people to do more, feel better and live longer."

John Saul, Senior Vice President, Primary Supply and Engineering, GlaxoSmithKline

"Johnson Matthey was delighted to have received the Environmental Leadership Award for our company-wide sustainability programme. It recognises the hard work and commitment of all our employees in working towards our vision to make Johnson Matthey a more sustainable business. Winning the Award has provided everyone with a real motivational boost and reinforced our enthusiasm for our journey towards sustainability."

Dr Sally Jones, Public Relations Manager, Johnson Matthey

"Process Safety Leadership is an area of major focus for all Croda operations globally. Winning this Award was tremendously encouraging for all of the teams worldwide who put in a huge effort to constantly improve our systems and processes in this area."

Bryan Dobson, President - Global Operations, Croda International plc

"Being awarded the Reputation Award was great recognition for our site. It shows that what we are doing to build our reputation locally and that of the industry is well respected. Our employees are proud that we won the Award and it shows our local community that we continue to be a responsible neighbour."

Jonathan Coldman, Community Relations Coordinator, Dow Corning Ltd

"Winning the Low Carbon Award reflects the efforts of everyone in our business to deliver excellent safety, health and environmental performance along with maximum operational efficiency. Both these strategic priorities are embedded in all we do, and provide us with a mechanism not only to differentiate ourselves from the competition, but to be a socially responsible company."

Hugh Constable, Regulatory Affairs Manager, INEOS Chlor Ltd

"Winning the Skills Award is a true recognition by the industry of the quality and innovative approach INEOS has taken towards providing work-ready graduates. The 'Engineers of the Future' programme has provided us with a fantastic opportunity to share our success with employees at Grangemouth, our programme partners and has stimulated interest across many industry sectors."

William Kane, Youth Development Manager, INEOS Manufacturing Scotland Ltd

"Everyone walked taller when we won our first Responsible Care Award, imagine how we all felt becoming the first-ever to win it for a second time. Excellence in EHS also has real business benefit enabling us confidently to accelerate supply of a vital ingredient to fight the swine flu pandemic."

Dave Tudor, Site Director, GlaxoSmithKline Montrose Site. Responsible Care Award winner 2009 and 2007

"Winning the Manufacturing and Resource Efficiency Award again in 2009 added to the celebrations and pride, validating the Halebank sites world class manufacturing performance in its 70th year of operation. Pentagon is proud to carry on the business traditions at the Halebank site and, with challenge as a constant, we have sought to build upon the resilience displayed by our highly integrated teams to drive it forward to greater success."

Nick Lindop, Director, Fine Chemicals General Manager, Pentagon Chemicals (Holdings) Ltd
