

CHEMICAL INDUSTRY Awards

The Chemical Industry Awards are the premier accolades for the UK chemical industry. They are designed to offer a unique opportunity to promote and highlight excellent performance and best practice at company, site or individual level.

The Awards Ceremony will take place at Newcastle Gateshead Hilton on Thursday 21 June 2012.

The event provides an ideal opportunity to entertain valued clients, colleagues and guests in the celebration of the best of the UK chemical and pharmaceutical industry.

CHEMICAL INDUSTRIES ASSOCIATION

Don't miss your opportunity to tell everyone about your success story. If you want to gain positive press coverage and attract new business, as well as demonstrate to your current customers, employees and competitors that yours is an exceptional business, then winning a Chemical Industry Award will help you achieve this.

The 2012 categories are:

- ABB Manufacturing and Resource Efficiency Award
- BASF Young Ambassador Award
- BIS Engineering Excellence Award
- CIA Company of the Year
- Dow Reputation Award
- EDF Energy Low Carbon Award
- Environmental Leadership Award sponsored by Johnson Matthey
- Gold Standard Skills Award sponsored by Cogent and The National Skills Academy Process Industries
- GSK Innovation Award
- INEOS Responsible Care Award
- Special Responsible Care Award for Process Safety Leadership sponsored by Shell UK

All entries will be judged by a panel of experts, with short-listed candidates being subjected to a more extensive judging process; in some cases involving a site visit, interview or presentation.

The closing date for entries is 23 March 2012

Full details of the categories and judging criteria are available from Mike Lancaster, Head of Events and Regional Affairs, Chemical Industries Association, Smith Square, London SW1P 3JJ.

Award Criteria

Entry is open to the whole of the UK chemical industry and to companies that provide services to the chemical industry as appropriate for each particular award.

Entries should be submitted electronically on the appropriate entry form (available from www.ciaawards.co.uk) and sent to Mike Lancaster at LancasterM@cia.org.uk to arrive by 23 March 2012.

ABB Manufacturing and Resource Efficiency Award

The Award is to recognise the company or individual operating unit that can demonstrate world-class manufacturing performance or the most successful improvement to its manufacturing performance involving demonstrable excellence and/or significant improvements to resource efficiency (raw materials, energy, water, utilities etc) within the manufacturing process.

BASF Young Ambassador Award

This Award is to recognise an outstanding young person demonstrating communication skills and leadership associated with the chemical industry and contributing to its success.

BIS Engineering Excellence Award

The purpose of this Award is to recognise the contribution of engineering excellence in the chemical industry towards improved business performance. The award will acknowledge innovation and outstanding delivery of engineering within chemical operator organisations or from suppliers who provide outsourced engineering services to the industry.

CIA Company of the Year

The winner of this Award will be, in the view of the judges, the most outstanding CIA member company of the year – demonstrating growth of its business and a sustained contribution to the UK economy.

Dow Reputation Award

This Award is in recognition of the organisation, company, business unit or manufacturing site which can demonstrate excellence in managing or enhancing its external reputation with key stakeholders. This should be in response to a specific, identified opportunity, requirement or issue.

EDF Energy Low Carbon Award

This Award will be given to the company which can best demonstrate enhanced carbon management through initiatives such as improved resource efficiency, the use of alternative energy sources and solutions designed to achieve energy savings across their supply chain.

Environmental Leadership Award sponsored by Johnson Matthey

This Award is for the company or operating unit that can demonstrate excellence in environmental leadership through the development or use of innovative clean technology or products that help reduce the environmental footprint of chemical manufacturing. The award is open to both manufacturing companies and equipment / technology / product suppliers.

Gold Standard Skills Award sponsored by Cogent and The National Skills Academy Process Industries

The purpose of this Award is to recognise the employer who has undertaken the most to contribute to the acquisition of skills by the company's workforce.

GSK Innovation Award

This Award is for the company or operating unit which can provide the most successful example of innovation – turning ideas into money – in an area of its business that helps solve today's societal challenges. Examples of challenges that judges would expect to be addressed include climate change, water conservation, environmental improvement and an ageing population. The judges will be looking for a smart idea that has been cleverly implemented for commercial success and the benefit of the UK chemical industry.

INEOS Responsible Care Award

The Award will be given to the company or site which has excelled at Responsible Care by demonstrating leadership and a creative approach.

Special Responsible Care Award for Process Safety Leadership sponsored by Shell UK

This Award is designed to sustain the high profile of process safety; reinforce process safety as an integral element within Responsible Care; promote CIA's Best Practice Guide on Process Safety Leadership and encourage leadership and the sharing of best practice.

Responsible Care

The Awards Ceremony is an inspiring celebration of the best of the UK chemical and pharmaceutical industry. It provides an excellent opportunity to entertain existing clients, as well as celebrate the outstanding achievements of colleagues or business partners. The ceremony regularly attracts some 500 diners including senior representatives of chemical companies, government, industry experts and the media.

Ensure you are represented at the industry awards ceremony of the year. A half bottle of complimentary wine will be provided per person for bookings received before 25 May.
